

The Art of Leadership MasterClass 2024

'Vibrant Leadership for Complex Communities'

The Art of Leadership Team of Rob Stones and Judy Hatswell will offer a new edition of the 'Art of Leadership MasterClass' in 2024

A MasterClass – exclusively for those who have completed the 'Art of Leadership' program. The Masterclass is a 3 day program.

A vibrant Leadership for Complex Communities' will be a 25-hour Masterclass (3 days for a maximum of 24 participants.)

As preparation, a commitment to 3 hours of pre-program reading and reflection activities will be required.

Included in the MasterClass will be:

- A deeper exploration of the psychology of internal control;
- A more rigorous examination of the implications of internal control psychology for educational leaders;
- A 'Case Studies' approach to extending the coaching and managing conversation skills of leaders. (Participants will be expected to bring several 'case studies' of coaching or managing conversations that they have found challenging)
- Some explorations in the management of complexity.
- Conversations about the nature and value of 'authenticity' in leadership;
- An exploration of the dimensions of leadership resilience;
- An examination of the cultural, strategic and change-management practices required to build a 'culture of collaborative professionalism' in a school;
- An exploration of the practice of autonomy-supportive leadership through the research and writing of Peter F. Drucker and Edward L. Deci.

The skills and strategic practices required of this approach to encouraging generative teacher learning and professional growth will be compared and contrasted to a more commonplace 'measurement and accountability' approach.

Judy Hatswell, Educational Psychologist and Training Consultant

Judy is both a teacher and registered psychologist who has held managerial positions at state-wide and regional levels in student welfare, guidance and behaviour disorders. She is currently working as a self-employed training consultant. Through intensive training programs with a focus on leadership development across organisations, Judy is successfully imparting practical techniques and tools for immediate use to drive behavioural and organisational change.

Rob Stones has been a successful leader and leadership coach for four decades. After 21 years as a School Principal, he is now regarded as an influential executive coach, leadership educator, and workshop presenter. Rob's workshops are all informed by his deep knowledge of human behaviour and motivation, and by his ability to devise and teach effective strategies that enhance the practice of leadership. He has designed and presented more than two hundred executive learning programs and is the author of four books on leadership-related topics.

The Art of Leadership MasterClass 2024

The Elements of this 3 -day program are:

- The emotional brain and the practice of leadership;
- Advanced practical skills for leadership self-management, based on the ideas of Dan Siegel, and the latest neuroscience research.
- The use of narrative in the repertoire of leaders: practices that help the leader to influence the culture of the school, and create clarity of purpose in a highly effective but subtle way.

The methodology of the MasterClass will be similar to that used in the AOL program, with all learning presented in an experiential genre.

Cost: $2541 per participant (ex GST)

All payments must be made on registration using Pcard or credit card.
